WANT THROUGH TRAIN SERVICE INSTITUTED

Movement Started to Secure Service by Way of This Valley

TO CONNECT WITH EAST

Route Proposed Would be Over P. & L. E. and Western Maryland Lines

Through passenger trains from Pittsburg to Baltimore over the Pittsburg and Lake Erie and Western Maryland routes, the through trains to run by the way of the Monongahela east is what citizens along the Monongahela valley are starting a movement to secure. At the present time through trains are being run from Pittsburg to Baltimore over another line that stretches up the Youghiogheny valley to Dickerson Run and to Connellsville and across to Baltimore.

Monessen people are working up sentiment in favor of the proposed change and may circulate petitions. Not only would the people of the east side of the Monongahela river be benefitted by the through service but also the people of the west side.

The route up the Youghiogheny river is nine miles shorter to Connellsville than the Monongahela valley route through Fayette City, but crooks and turns in the former make it more difficult of travel. Besides there are not sufficient tracks to best accommodate the through service. Up the Monongahela valley on the P. & L. E. line there are four tracks.

A connecting link between Fayette City and Dickerson Run was completed some time ago, and freight is hauled over the link but no passenger service has been installed. It is argued that the Fayette City cut-off really would lessen the running time of the trains, and would assist the P. & L. E. in maintaining good service.

Also it is stated that on the Youghiogheny route to Connellsville there is only one town, West Newton. As a feeder, even Fayette City, one of the smallest along the Monongahela valley would beat it. The inauguration of a service like that proposed would give the larger towns like Monessen, Charleroi, Monongahela and those farther north the benefits of a service that would augur well to the development of the river community, and in addition provide excellent trade for the railroad.

Special Trip to Monessen

Charleroi Congregations to Hear of Plans for Attending Revival

On Sunday morning the different evangelical congregations of town will hear a proposal from ministers who are members of the Charleroi Ministerial Association to attend as a body revival services at the Monessen tabernacle, where Evangelist John Hamilton is conducting services. Action was taken by ministers at their meeting this week to present the matter to their congregations. Plans for holding revival services in Charleroi this fall were talked of, by the ministers and later action may follow.

DOUBLING OF TERMS OPPOSED

Gov. Tener Vetoes Bill For Mayors to Succeed Themselves

NO MORE HANGINGS

Harrisburg, June 20—In vetoing the Geary bill, which permitted Mayor Magee of Pittsburg and the mayor of Scranton to succeed themselves, Governor Tener indicated that he is not in favor of a continuous tenure of office. By this action it is indicated that the governor is likely to veto the bill which has passed both senate and house permitting burgesses of boroughs to succeed themselves, as well as mayors of smaller class cities

It is believed that a compromise is possible on the state wide primary law, and that the house and senate will be able to get together, after some of the raw spots in the senate bill are eliminated. Practically no progress was made on the other election or labor bills that are in dispute. No steps have been taken to hea the breach in the workman's compensation bill or the child and woman labor bills.

Governor Tener has signed the bill for the electrocution of criminals sentenced to death in the place of hanging. Convicts now under death sentence will be executed in the usual manner by hanging. A death house is to be erected in the new penitentiary that is being built in Center county, where all the executions will take place in the future.

Lady Maccabees are requested to meet at 6:45 o'clock Sunday evening at the P. H. C. hall to go to the First Presbyterian church where Rev. J. T. Hackett will conduct memorial services. By order of the Lady Commander. 281- 2

NINE-YEAR-OLD LAD DROWNED IN RIVER

Naomi Boy Falls From Sawdust Boat---Companions Make Vain Efforts to Save Him--Body is Recovered

Losing his balance as he played about a sawdust boat Thursday evening at the Noami mine tipple near Fayette City Thomas Kowasick, aged 9 years, the son of a widow of Naomi fell into the Monongahela river and before his companions could reach him had drowned.

The boy with a number of others of similar age had been running and jumping about the sawdust boat between 7 and 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Some of them had gone in swimming. Suddenly a cry was heard and could swim, it is stated. The Kowosick lad had fallen from the outer edge of the boat and the best his companions could do was to work themselves around by pulling themselves along by ropes surrounding the boat. Before any one had reached the lad he had gone down for the third and last time.

The water at the point is not very deep and the drowned boy's body was recovered without much trouble.

BERRYMAN'S SALES FORCE HOLD OUTING

While other folks sizzled and suffered in the heat of the torrid June day, members of the sales force from the department store of J. W. Berryman and Son, frolicked in the cooling shade Thursday afternoon at Eldora Park remaining to enjoy the pleasing breezes of the evening, Thursday was their annual picnic day and everybody that had at any time since Christmas been employed in the store went including managers and J. D. Berryman and his family.

Most of the party left about 4:30 o'clock. At the park all kinds of diversions were provided in addition to those offered by the park. The roller coaster, the merry-go-round, the dancing pavilion and particularly the bamboo slide were called into requisition. Merry laughter was heard everywhere.

Lunch was taken along and served after 6 o'clock. In the evening a number remained for the dancing that was a distinct feature of the day.

NOT ODD ACCIDENT; HORSE FRIGHTENS AT A MOTORCYCLE

When a horse became frightened at a motorcycle's even chug-chug on the Belle Vernon hill Thursday it dashed into the motorcycle. As a result the rider of the motorcycle, a man by the name of Smith from Monessen was injured, and required medical attention. Most of his hurts were about the face and shoulders. His face was badly cut and bruised. His machine was broken. Mr. Smith works at a garage in Belle Vernon.

MONESSEN WOMAN BUYS STAR THEATRE

Tom B. Cowan who has operated the Star Theatre, Charleroi, together with theatres in Monessen, Monongahela and Donora for a number of years, has sold the Charleroi house to Mrs. Daisy Engle of Monessen who this week assumed charge. R. D. Morrow of Monessen is the new manager.

Playgrounds Instructor Visits.

Miss Wilson, who is a playgrounds instructor in the Beaver Falls playgrounds was a visitor in Charleroi Thursday afternoon and inspected the play at the Charleroi playgrounds. She was here as a guest of Mrs. Kirk.

TODAY FIRST OF LOT SALE AT LOCK VIEW

Large crowds are attending the big lot sale at Lock View Terrace in North Charleroi, which opened at 1 o'clock this afternoon. A free automobile service is being employed to convey people from Charleroi and along the route to the scene, which leaves every half hour from Fifth street, Charleroi, to Lock View.

These lots are ideally situated for home settlement, and the plan that is now offered for sale will fill a long felt want for the working man. The object of the sae is to acquaint people with the location, its desirability, its proximity to all the big industries of the valley, accessibility to the best of schools and churches, and its freedom from smoke, dirt and dust of the more thickly settled parts of this community. These lots will not last long, so come at once and secure a home site while you have a chance.

Five years hence a lot cannot be purchased in this plan for many times the prices they are selling at today. Homes in close proximity to big industrial centers will be in such great demand that fancy prices for sites will be demanded. Buy a home now. Start saving. Nothing will grow into money faster. A lot will not burn up nor blow away.

Remember the sale continues tomorrow at the same hours. The free auto service will be run as usual, with the band concerts the same as today. Get into the contest, whereby you may get a $200 lot free. Also remember the ladies' contest for a $65 sewing machine free to the winner. Particulars can be obtained on the grounds. This is the opportunity of a life time. Remember the place, Lock View Terrace, North Charleroi Pa.

Coroner's Jury Investigates Demise of James Pryor at Bentleyville

Unknown causes resulted in the death at Finleyville of James Pryor who was found on the street car tracks there Sunday morning. Coroner James T. Heffran held an inquest into the case Thursday and the jury rendered a verdict that they were unable to determine how death occurred. It was the opinion however that he was dead and that a car ran over him afterwa d.

ELECTION CASE IS OPENED

Sensational Testimony Given Against Judge R. E. Umbel

S. E. FROCK TESTIFIES

Some sensational testimony was brought out in the investigation of the legislative judicial committee hearing at Uniontown Thursday, in the impeachment charges against Judge Robert E. Umbel. According to testimony given by Samuel E. Frock, formerly sheriff of Fayette county, who was at the time a director of the Labor Brewing company a secret fund of $50,000 was collected from the liquor interests to be used in the election of Judge Umbel. Frock testified that the Labor Brewery of which he was a director, contributed $5,000 to the fund.

According to further testimony by Frock he was later given to understand that charges would be filed against his brewery at the license court, and that the brewery might lose its license. He was advised to sell his stock. This he claims he did selling his 250 shares of stock at $150 a share, although it had a value of $600 a share, as it was paying 40 per cent dividends. Afterward nothing was done against the breweries, which were not only granted license, but were commended by the court for the manner in which they had conducted their affairs.

Ex-Sheriff Frock further testified to his knowledge of money received and expended secretly for election purposes. Attorney John Marron of Pittsburg, who is well known in Charleroi, is helping the prosecution.

Coroner's Jury Investigating Death at Monongahela

MINE FILLED WITH GAS

Claimed to be in Dangerous Condition--Inspection to be Made

Whether the city would be to blame where there a fire started in an abandoned mine within the city limits that would destroy lives is one matter that is puzzling jurors drawn by Coroner James T. Heffran to inquire into the death of Frank Ianna, of Monongahela, killed by an explosion in an old mine at Monongahela.

Thorough investigation is to be made into the causes of the explosion. Thursday Coroner Heffran got an inquest under way, but after hearing a number of witnesses it was decided to adjourn until next Monday.

Testimony given by mine inspectors was to the effect that the abandoned mine where the fatality occurred was full of natural gas. After inspectors had directed the gas companies to look for leaks, the Monongahela and Bellwood Gas Company turned off the gas in the Park avenue mine and reported that a small leak had been repaired. Mine Inspector Alexander McCanch went into the mine Thursday morning and found there was no gas. The jurors were not entirely satisfied so they will accompany mine inspectors later on an investigating trip.

The jurors hold this is a serious matter that rests with the city and the natural gas companies and claim that if a fire should start in these abandoned workings there would be no way of extinguishing it.

The mine lies under a residential portion of the city and the investigation is attracting much attention.

A GRACIOUS ACT.

Colonel Lewis E. Beitler, secretary of the fiftieth anniversary ceremonies of the Battle of Gettysburg, announced that the state of Pennsylvania will transport to Gettysburg 22,051 veterans who participated in the civil war and who are now residing in Pennsylvania and are now living in other states. This also includes all Confederate veterans now living in the state who have accepted the invitation of the Pennsylvania Commission

This is a gracious act, and the cost will not be begrudged by the citizens of the commonwealth. It is most fitting that the state should transport the veterans to the scene of the celebration where the tide of northern invasion was rolled back during the civil war, and where later the Immortal Lincoln delivered his famous speech at the dedication of the national cemetery there. The nation has shown its gratitude to the veterans in the matter of liberal pensions and now the state has an opportunity to express its appreciation to its former soldiers who prevented Pennsylvania soil from becoming regularly contested ground during the sanguinary conflicts of the civil war.

THE INDUSTRIAL BOSS.

What in the past has been known as a "captain of industry," has in the modern view of things developed into an industrial boss, a species as obnoxious and as baneful to society as the political boss. It has been learned that the man who sways and controls big industrial enterprises or financial deals does so usually by methods and means as questionable and as unlawful as those pursued by a powerful politicial dictator. This is evidenced by the recent investigations that have been made of the trusts and combinations which have in the past controlled the industrial and financial destinies of the nation. Great manipulators and dictators in the realms of industry and finance who have been investigated such as J. J. Hill, J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, and others, who first came into the limelight as "great captains of industry and finance," are now not so favorably regarded.

Attention to this status is called by the Saturday Evening Post in a recent editorial. According to the Post the man who dominates a big corporation by his personality usually does so by methods that are as reprehensible and as obnoxious as those practiced by the machine politician who dictates and controls public affairs. Theer is no more occasion for the industrial boss than for the political boss. It has been shown that the most of the corporate evils are traceable to one man control and discretion. It is because the big trusts have had so little control from within that they are now getting so much control from without. As the Post says any one man company is not a company to be to. Corporations that now command the public respect must have boards of directors who direct.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

It has long been known that serious results often have their beginning in small wounds which have been slighted. Skilled workmen are too valuable in this day and age to be lost through neglect and to guard infection and the possible loss of fingers, or even an arm, and the loss of time through sickness and injury, most of the big industrial plants have an emergency hospital to deal with and care for minor injuries. The Electric News Service tells how a new employ in a large plant who had met with a minor accident laid the offending tool down on the bench and looked at a trickle of blood oozing from a cut in his finger

"It don't amount to anything," he laughed, as he reached in his hip pocket and took out a dirty handkerchief to wrap up the injury.

"Here, don't do that," cautioned his comrade at the same bench.

"Oh, it don't amount to anything—" began the injured one.

"No matter how slight a cut, you must have it taken care of at once. It is the rule here. Go at once to the emergency hospital and have it washed and bandaged."

The emergency hospital was a neat little building, centrally located, and completely equipped for any kind of emergency work. There was a skillful doctor in charge and two bright attendants to assist with the medical work. The finger was soon washed in antiseptic solution and wrapped with a sterilized gauze bandage. After a complete record of the injury the young man returned to his bench and resumed work.

At Lynn, Mass, where more than 12,000 workers are employed in the huge plant of the General Electric company, a new emergency hospital has just been completed. This new hospital is equipped with all the modern appliances for the care of accident cases such as are inevitable, in such a large plant, in spite of all the safety appliances installed. There is a separate room for minor injuries, a room for the treatment of infectious wounds and a third room where those suffering from injuries to the eyes are cared for. There are also a waiting room and a special office for the attendant in charge.

This is but one example of the first aid work to injured that is being practiced by the most of the large industrial concerns. It is being installed in the coal mines of the valley, and good work is being done along that line.

PROGRESS SHOWN AT COKEBURG

The Cokeburg School Board held a special meeting for the election of teachers on Wednesday evening, June 18th, 1913 which resulted as follows: Supervisory superintendent, E. E. Bach, principal E. C. Snyder, 5th and 6th grades, Miss Mary Young, 3rd and 4th grades, Miss Martha Brown, 2nd grade, Mrs. Anna Dague Phillips, 1st grade, Miss Jane Myers, kindergarten and playground directors, Miss Edith Blythe, substitute teacher in training, Miss Grace Henderson.

In keeping with the progressive spirit of the Cokeburg school board several new innovations were decided upon for the coming year for the purpose of making the work of the school still more practical and efficient.

The new position of school substitute in training was created for the purpose of preparing teachers for the special type of schools needed in mining communities. Aside from the direct work in teaching the work will include training in the playground during the summer under the direct supervision of the regular playground director.

Another step forward taken by this board was that of attempting in a practical way a closer relationship between the school and the home. This has been the theme of discussion after discussion in teacher's institutes and in fact in all other gatherings which have had for their best purpose for the schools and nothing of a practical nature has ever resulted from the discussion.

The census of opinion if discussion has been that the teacher should visit the home but no provision has ever been made for the teacher to visit the home. The Cokeburg school board has provided for this important feature of school work by devoting a quarter of the day in each Friday afternoon to this purpose. The teacher will be required to make an individual report on each visit.

The plans made by this school board of last year will be continued during the present year together with the better facilities for work afforded by the completion of the new school building in which will be housed in a most modern way the departments of domestic science and kindergarten together with the primary grades.

The joint relationship pertaining to the high school work will be maintained and continued during the coming year with the condition of the 3rd year course which carries with it the employment of the school board at Cokeburg are: W. E. Lahm, superintendent of the Cokeburg operations, Dr. H. J. Kirby, George Lindsay, William Renner, Stephen Dwish.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLLEROI

With no vaudeville scheduled fo this week the Palace Theatre has had motion picture dramas. Starting with Eugene Sue's "The Wandering Jew," in five reels as Monday's offering, a strong program has been offered theentire week, with another special four-reel feature for Saturday. This is "Zigomar, or the Black Scourge," another of a noted series which is being produced from time to time, and which is making a sensation in the moving picture world. "The Wandering Jew" showed the principal scenes of that wonderful and most intricate plot, where the great conspiracy was carried out to obtain possession of the fortune amounting to 110 millions, which had many heirs. It was a most wonderful exposition of this great classic Some of the strong dramas of the week were "The Post and the Soldier," "The Paymaster," and "Bunny's Birthday Surprise." The Pathe Weekly Friday has its usual offering of good things. Among these are scenes from New York,where the new English Ambassador arrives; from France, where the German dririgible military balloon alights and creates consternation in the French camp on the latter's soil; from Athens, Greece, where the military funeral of King George was held, who was assassinated. The bill for Saturday is an unusually strong one.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

A goodly repertoire of comedy, drama and travel was scheduled on the Coyle Theatre program this week. "The Curate's Outing," "Thus Saith the Lord." in two reels, "She Never Knew," "InSlavery Days," in two reels, were some of the leading features of the fore part of the week. "The Stage Driver's Chivalry," was a tale of a western bandit, who shipping as a passenger in a stage coach for the purpose of holding it up when it reached the rendezvous of a pal along the route, has occasion to change his mind. A fellow passenger is a young girl, who in much perturbation shows the bandit a letter, telling her to return home at once if she desires to see her mother alive. Because of this ,after the holdup, the passenger, who becomes the driver, changes his route and drives the girl to her destination, so that she reaches her mother's bedside in time to see her alive. Three two reel Bison films are on the program for the last three days of the week. These are, "Under Fire," Thursday; "Secret Service Sam," Friday; "Love, Life and Liberty," Saturday. Other good week end dramas of the program were "Good for Evil," "Black Jack's Atonement," "When Wit Wins," and "Billy's Honeymoon." An extra two-reel feature will be given on Saturday, making five reels for that date.

THE STAR—CHARLLEROI.

With a good all-around program the Star Theatre this week presented its regular melange of drama, comedy and travel to its big clientele of patrons. "The Children's Conspiracy," "The Man From the City," "Boobs and Bricks," "The Reward of Courage," "An American in the Making," and "Cupid in the Dental Parlor," were among the first of the week offerings that attracted unusual attention. A two-reel Broncho, "Retrogression," was what its name implies, a return to primeval conditions after the gloss of cilvilization had been tried and found wanting. Other interesting features were "Hoodoo Pearls," "When Jim Returned," together with a split reel, "A Fishy Affair," and "Bangville Police." Friday's bill is strong, headed by the "Mutual Weekly," and a two reel Kay Bee, "Will O' the Wisp." For Saturday the Star has booked "Her Innocent Marriage," "My Lady's Boot," and "The Eternal Sacrifice."

THE HIPPODROME—PITTSBURG.

Arrangements are going forward rapidly for the opening of the Pittsburg Hipodrome whose season on Forbes Field is to begin on Monday night, June 30. This great out of doors pleasure resort is by long odd. the most important institution of its kind in America and its popularity with greater Pittsburgers has made the prospective date of its opening a source of thousands of inquiries. The plans are on a scale of pretentiousness that is an augury of entertainment unsurpassed and at a scale of prices that will invite the whole public. The million dollar stadium, with its capacity of more than 30,000 chairs and the enormous community. which Pittsburg has to draw from makes it possible to present a show infinitely more varied and quite as large as that of the greatest circuses at a scale approximating 10, 15, 25 and 35 cents with private box seats at 50 cents. It is proposed to give a performance every evening, rain or fair, whether the Pittsburg Base Ball Club is at home or away, and on favorite occasions, when the club is absent, to have Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Three huge elevated stages will be utilized for the rings and the track and field will afford ample space for important athletic events. which by the way, are to be distictive features of this year's shows.

Lighting facilities of the most modern and unique sort will be installed so that however obscure the orb of night. Forbes Field will always be as brilliant as bright daylight. It is the intention of Managers Harry Davis and John P. Harris to make these performances compass the whole field of amusements suited to representation in the open air, and hence, will give the general public an incentive for repeating their visits to the Hippodrome as often as opportunity presents. Arrangements will be made to place tickets on sale in advance at convenient places in Pittsburg. Full details as to the program for the opening week will be forthcoming shortly.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

Pittsburgers are to witness an event next week which is perhaps with out a parallel in the history of the local stage; namely a production by the Hary Davis Stock company in the Grand Opera House of the ancient morality play 'Everyman." This is the impressive drama of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries which the Shakespeare Stage Society of London under the direction of Ben Greet, revived in the world's capital five or six years. On the occasion of its only representation in this City by the Ben Greet players, "Everyman" attracted enormous audiences to Carnegie Music Hall at a scale of prices approximating grand opera fees.

The play symbolizes the universal mortality, that Everyman that lives must die and points the moral of right living so that when the time comes to make the journey to the tomb Everyman may be prepared. Despite the fact that it is a sermon, "Everymen" is a powerful drama—a drama which is the best sort of entertainment and which, on account of its thoroughly unique character in these days of much theatric trash, cannot fail to provide real entertainment even for the habitual playgoers who goes to the theatre wholly for recreation. Miss Truax, has already rehearsed the play under the direction of Mr. Ben Greet and her conception of the role, which will be marked by her own individuality, promises to be one of the artistic triumphs of her splendid career. The other characters will, of course ,be played by Mr. Charles Gunn, Mr. Dennis Harris, Mr. Hal De Forest, Mr.Morris Foster, Mr. J. Francis R.Dillon, Mr.Jerome Storm Mr. Allen Kelley, Miss Gertrude Maitland, Miss Faith Avery, Miss Jessie Pringle and the various other talented actors of the Davis organization. It is expected that society will make the production of "Everyman" an occasion for a pilgrimage to the theatre and also that numerous church parties, drawn thither by the sacredness of the theme, will be found among Mr. Davis' audiences.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by your druggist under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guar-

Business Will Remain The Same.

Since the death of Wilmot D. Hancock, many people have inquired as to whether or not the undertaking business would still be conducted by Mrs Hancock. She desires to state that she will remain in Roscoe and with the assistance of her brother, Chas. Melenyzer, who recently secured his state licence as an undertaker, continue the business as heretofore. During the illness of Mr. Hancock a large portion of the work connected with the business was done by Mrs. Hancock, and she is therefore familiar with its undertaking. 278-46-M-2

WANT THROUGH TRAIN SERVICE INSTITUTED

Movement Started to Secure Service by Way of This Valley

TO CONNECT WITH EAST

Route Proposed Would be Over P. & L. E. and Western Maryland Lines

Through passenger trains from Pittsburg to Baltimore over the Pittsburg and Lake Erie and Western Maryland routes, the through trains to run by the way of the Monongahela east is what citizens along the Monongahela valley are starting a movement to secure. At the present time through trains are being run from Pittsburg to Baltimore over another line that stretches up the Youghiogheny valley to Dickerson Run and to Connellsville and across to Baltimore.

Monessen people are working up sentiment in favor of the proposed change and may circulate petitions. Not only would the people of the east side of the Monongahela river be benefitted by the through service but also the people of the west side.

The route up the Youghiogheny river is nine miles shorter to Connellsville than the Monongahela valley route through Fayette City, but crooks and turns in the former make it more difficult of travel. Besides there are not sufficient tracks to best accommodate the through service. Up the Monongahela valley on the P. & L. E. line there are four tracks.

A connecting link between Fayette City and Dickerson Run was completed some time ago, and freight is hauled over the link but no passenger service has been installed. It is argued that the Fayette City cut-off really would lessen the running time of the trains, and would assist the P. & L. E. in maintaining good service.

Also it is stated that on the Youghiogheny route to Connellsville there is only one town, West Newton. As a feeder, even Fayette City, one of the smallest along the Monongahela valley would beat it. The inauguration of a service like that proposed would give the larger towns like Monessen, Charleroi, Monongahela and those farther north the benefits of a service that would augur well to the development of the river community, and in addition provide excellent trade for the railroad.

Charleroi Congregations to Hear of Plans for Attending Revival

On Sunday morning the different evangelical congregations of town will hear a proposal from ministers who are members of the Charleroi Ministerial Association to attend as a body revival services at the Monessen tabernacle, where Evangelist John Hamilton is conducting services. Action was taken by ministers at their meeting this week to present the matter to their congregations. Plans for holding revival services in Charleroi this fall were talked of, by the ministers and later action may follow.

DOUBLING OF TERMS OPPOSED

Gov. Tener Vetoes Bill For Mayors to Succeed Themselves

NO MORE HANGINGS

Harrisburg, June 20—In vetoing the Geary bill, which permitted Mayor Magee of Pittsburg and the mayor of Scranton to succeed themselves, Governor Tener indicated that he is not in favor of a continuous tenure of office. By this action it is indicated that the governor is likely to veto the bill which has passed both senate and house permitting burgesses of boroughs to succeed themselves, as well as mayors of smaller class cities.

It is believed that a compromise is possible on the state wide primary law, and that the house and senate will be able to get together, after some of the raw spots in the senate bill are eliminated. Practically no progress was made on the other election or labor bills that are in dispute. No steps have been taken to hea the breach in the workman's compensation bill or the child and woman labor bills.

Governor Tener has signed the bill for the electrocution of criminals sentenced to death in the place of hanging. Convicts now under death sentence will be executed in the usual manner by hanging. A death house is to be erected in the new penitentiary that is being built in Center county, where all the executions will take place in the future.

Lady Maccabees are requested to meet at 6:45 o'clock Sunday evening at the P. H. C. hall to go to the First Presbyterian church where Rev. J. T. Hackett will conduct memorial services. By order of the Lady Commander. 281-2

Naomi Boy Falls From Sawdust Boat---Companions Make Vain Efforts to Save Him--Body is Recovered

Losing his balance as he played about a sawdust boat Thursday evening at the Noami mine tipple near Fayette City Thomas Kowasick, aged 9 years, the son of a widow of Naomi fell into the Monongahela river and before his companions could reach him had drowned.

The boy with a number of others of similar age had been running and jumping about the sawdust boat between 7 and 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Some of them had gone in swimming. Suddenly a cry was heard and could swim, it is stated. The Kowosick lad had fallen from the outer edge of the boat and the best his [illegible] themselves around by pulling themselves along by ropes surrounding the boat. Before any one had reached the lad he had gone down for the third and last time.

The water at the point is not very deep and the drowned boy's body was recovered without much trouble.

BERRYMAN'S SALES FORCE HOLD OUTING

While other folks sizzled and suffered in the heat of the torrid June day, members of the sales force from the department store of J. W. Berryman and Son, frolicked in the cooling shade Thursday afternoon at Eldora Park remaining to enjoy the pleasing breezes of the evening, Thursday was their annual picnic day and everybody that had at any time since Christmas been employed in the store went including managers and J. D. Berryman and his family.

Most of the party left about 4:30 o'clock. At the park all kinds of diversions were provided in addition to those offered by the park. The roller coaster, the merry-go-round, the dancing pavilion and particularly the bamboo slide were called into requisition. Merry laughter was heard everywhere.

Lunch was taken along and served after 6 o'clock. In the evening a number remained for the dancing that was a distinct feature of the day.

NOT ODD ACCIDENT; HORSE FRIGHTENS AT A MOTORCYCLE

When a horse became frightened at a motorcycle's even chug-chug on the Belle Vernon hill Thursday it dashed into the motorcycle. As a result the rider of the motorcycle, a man by the name of Smith from Monessen was injured, and required medical attention. Most of his hurts were about the face and shoulders. His face was badly cut and bruised. His machine was broken. Mr. Smith works at a garage in Belle Vernon.

MONESSEN WOMAN BUYS STAR THEATRE

Tom B. Cowan who has operated the Star Theatre, Charleroi, together with theatres in Monessen, Monongahela and Donora for a number of years, has sold the Charleroi house to Mrs. Daisy Engle of Monessen who this week assumed charge. R. D. Morrow of Monessen is the new manager.

Playgrounds Instructor Visits.

Miss Wilson, who is a playgrounds instructor in the Beaver Falls playgrounds was a visitor in Charleroi Thursday afternoon and inspected the play at the Charleroi playgrounds. She was here as a guest of Mrs. Kirk.

TODAY FIRST OF LOT SALE AT LOCK VIEW

Large crowds are attending the big lot sale at Lock View Terrace in North Charleroi, which opened at 1 o'clock this afternoon. A free automobile service is being employed to convey people from Charleroi and along the route to the scene, which leaves every half hour from Fifth street, Charleroi, to Lock View.

These lots are ideally situated for home settlement, and the plan that is now offered for sale will fill a long felt want for the working man. The object of the sae is to acquaint people with the location, its desirability, its proximity to all the big industries of the valley, accessibility to the best of schools and churches, and its freedom from smoke, dirt and dust of the more thickly settled parts of this community. These lots will not last long, so come at once and secure a home site while you have a chance.

Five years hence a lot cannot be purchased in this plan for many times the prices they are selling at today. Homes in close proximity to big industrial centers will be in such great demand that fancy prices for sites will be demanded. Buy a home now. Start saving. Nothing will grow into money faster. A lot will not burn up nor blow away.

Remember the sale continues tomorrow at the same hours. The free auto service will be run as usual, with the band concerts the same as today. Get into the contest, whereby you may get a $200 lot free. Also remember the ladies' contest for a $65 sewing machine free to the winner. Particulars can be obtained on the grounds. This is the opportunity of a life time. Remember the place, Lock View Terrace, North Charleroi Pa.

GIPSY SMITH'S SON AT MONONGAHELA

Rev. Albany Rodney Smith, who was one of the speakers at the Washington County Sunday school convention at Washington last week has been engaged to speak at three points at Monongahela on next Sunday. In the morning he will make an address at the Presbyterian churchh. In the afternoon at 3:30 he will speak to men at the Baptist church and in the evening will preach at the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. Smith is a son of the famous Gipsy Smith. Wednesday evening Rev. John H. Davis, a noted evangelist visited Monongahela and made an address.

Coroner's Jury Investigates Demise of James Pryor at Bentleyville

Unknown causes resulted in the death at Finleyville of James Pryor who was found on the street car tracks there Sunday morning. Coroner James T. Heffran held an inquest into the case Thursday and the jury rendered a verdict that they were unable to determine how death occurred. It was the opinion however that he was dead and that a car ran over him afterward.

ELECTION CASE IS OPENED

Sensational Testimony Given Against Judge R. E. Umbel

S. E. FROCK TESTIFIES

Some sensational testimony was brought out in the investigation of the legislative judicial committee hearing at Uniontown Thursday, in the impeachment charges against Judge Robert E. Umbel. According to testimony given by Samuel E. Frock, formerly sheriff of Fayette county, who was at the time a director of the Labor Brewing company a secret fund of $50,000 was collected from the liquor interests to be used in the election of Judge Umbel. Frock testified that the Labor Brewery of which he was a director, contributed $5,000 to the fund.

According to further testimony by Frock he was later given to understand that charges would be filed against his brewery at the license court, and that the brewery might lose its license. He was advised to sell his stock. This he claims he did selling his 250 shares of stock at $150 a share, although it had a value of $600 a share, as it was paying 40 per cent dividends. Afterward nothing was done against the breweries, which were not only granted license, but were commended by the court for the manner in which they had conducted their affairs.

Ex-Sheriff Frock further testified to his knowledge of money received and expended secretly for election purposes. Attorney John Marron of Pittsburg, who is well known in Charleroi, is helping the prosecution.

Coroner's Jury Inve gating Death at M nongahela

MINE FILLED WITH

Claimed to be in Dange Condition--Inspection be Made

Whether the city would be to where there a fire started in an doned mine within the city that would destroy lives is one that is puzzling jurors drawn by oner James T. Heffran to in into the death of Frank Iam Monongahela, killed by an exp in an old mine at Monongahela.

Thorough investigation is made into the causes of the expl Thursday Coroner Heffran got inquest under way, but after ing a number of witnesses it w cided to adjourn until next Mon

Testimony given by mine i tors was to the effect that the doned mine where the fatality curred was full of natural ga te. Inspectors had directed th companies to look for leaks, the orgahela and Bellwood Gas pany turned off the gas in the avenue mine and reported t small leak had been repaired. Inspector Alexander McCanch into the mine Thursday mornin found there was no gas. The were not entirely satisfied so will accompany mine inspector on an investigating trip.

The jurors hold this is a s matter that rests with the city the natural gas companies and that if a fire should start in abandoned workings there wou no way of extinguishing it.

A GRACIOUS ACT.

Colonel Lewis E. Beitler, secretary of the fiftieth anniversary ceremonies of the Battle of Gettysburg, announced that the state of Pennsylvania will transport to Gettysburg 22,051 veterans who participated in the civil war and who are now residing in Pennsylvania and are now living in other states. This also includes all Confederate veterans now living in the state who have accepted the invitation of the Pennsylvania Commission.

This is a gracious act, and the cost will not be begrudged by the citizens of the commonwealth. It is most fitting that the state should transport the veterans to the scene of the celebration where the tide of northern invasion was rolled back during the civil war, and where later the Immortal Lincoln delivered his famous speech at the dedication of the national cemetery there. The nation has shown its gratitude to the veterans in the matter of liberal pensions and now the state has an opportunity to express its appreciation to its former soldiers who prevented Pennsylvania soil from becoming regularly contested ground during the sanguinary conflicts of the civil war.

THE INDUSTRIAL BOSS.

What in the past has been known as a "captain of industry," has in the modern view of things developed into an industrial boss, a species as obnoxious and as baneful to society as the political boss. It has been learned that the man who sways and controls big industrial enterprises or financial deals does so usually by methods and means as questionable and as unlawful as those pursued by a powerful political dictator. This is evidenced by the recent investigations that have been made of the trusts and combinations which have in the past controlled the industrial and financial destinies of the nation. Great manipulators and dictators in the realms of industry and finance who have been investigated such as J. J. Hill, J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, and others, who first came into the limelight as "great captains of industry and finance," are now not so favorably regarded.

Attention to this status is called by the Saturday Evening Post in a recent editorial. According to the Post the man who dominates a big corporation by his personality usually does so by methods that are as reprehensible and as obnoxious as those practiced by the machine politician who dictates and controls public affairs. Theer is no more occasion for the industrial boss than for the political boss. It has been shown that the most of the corporate evils are traceable to one man control and discretion. It [illegible] little control from within that they are now getting so much control from without. As the Post says any one man company is not a company to tie to. Corporations that now command the public respect must have boards of directors who direct.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

It has long been known that serious results often have their beginning in small wounds which have been slighted. Skilled workmen are too valuable in this day and age to be lost through neglect and to guard infection and the possible loss of fingers, or even an arm, and the loss of time through sickness and injury, most of the big industrial plants have an emergency hospital to deal with and care for minor injuries. The Electric News Service tells how a new employ in a large plant who had met with a minor accident laid the offending tool down on the bench and looked at a trickle of blood oozing from a cut in his finger.

"It don't amount to anything," he laughed, as he reached in his hip pocket and took out a dirty handkerchief to wrap up the injury.

"Here, don't do that," cautioned his comrade at the same bench.

"Oh, it don't amount to anything—" began the injured one.

"No matter how slight a cut, you must have it taken care of at once. It is the rule here. Go at once to the emergency hospital and have it washed and bandaged."

The emergency hospital was a neat little building, centrally located, and completely equipped for any kind of emergency work. There was a skillful doctor in charge and two bright attendants to assist with the medical work. The finger was soon washed in antiseptic solution and wrapped with a sterilized gauze bandage. After a complete record of the injury the young man returned to his bench and resumed work.

At Lynn, Mass, where more than 12,000 workers are employed in the huge plant of the General Electric company, a new emergency hospital has just been completed. This new hospital is equipped with all the modern appliances for the care of accident cases such as are inevitable, in such a large plant, in spite of all the safety appliances installed. There is a separate room for minor injuries, a room for the treatment of infectious wounds and a third room where those suffering from injuries to the eyes are cared for. There are also a waiting room and a special office for the attendant in charge.

This is but one example of the first aid work to injured that is being practiced by the most of the large industrial concerns. It is being installed in the coal mines of the valley, and good work is being done along that line.

PROGRESS SHOWN AT COKEBURG

The Cokeburg School Board held a special meeting for the election of teachers on Wednesday evening, June 18th, 1913 which resulted as follows: Supervisory superintendent, E. E. Bach, principal E. C. Snyder, 5th and 6th grades, Miss Mary Young, 3rd and 4th grades, Miss Martha Brown, 2nd grade, Mrs. Anna Dague Phillips, 1st grade, Miss Jane Myers, kindergarten and playground directors, Miss Edith Blythe, substitute teacher in training, Miss Grace Henderson.

In keeping with the progressive spirit of the Cokeburg school board several new innovations were decided upon for the coming year for the purpose of making the work of the school still more practical and efficient.

The new position of school substitute in training was created for the purpose of preparing teachers for the special type of schools needed in mining communities. Aside from the direct work in teaching the work will include training in the playground during the summer under the direct supervision of the regular playground director.

Another step forward taken by this board was that of attempting in a practical way a closer relationship between the school and the home. This has been the theme of discussion after discussion in teacher's institutes and in fact in all other gatherings which have had for their best purpose for the schools and nothing of a practical nature has ever resulted from the discussion.

The census of opinion if discussion has been that the teacher should visit the home but no provision has ever been made for the teacher to visit the home. The Cokeburg school board has provided for this important feature of school work by devoting a quarter of the day in each Friday afternoon to this purpose. The teacher will be required to make an individual report on each visit.

The plans made by this school board of last year will be continued during the present year together with the better facilities for work afforded by the completion of the new school building in which will be housed in a most modern way the departments of domestic science and kindergarten together with the primary grades.

The joint relationship pertaining to the high school work will be maintained and continued during the coming year with the condition of the 3rd year course which carries with it the employment of the school board at Cokeburg are: W. E. Lahm, superintendent of the Cokeburg operations, Dr. H. J. Kirby, George Lindsay, William Renner, Stephen Dwish.

THE PALACE—CHARLLEROI

With no vaudeville scheduled for this week the Palace Theatre has had motion picture dramas. Starting with Eugene Sue's "The Wandering Jew," in five reels as Monday's offering, a strong program has been offered theentire week, with another special four-reel feature for Saturday. This is "Zigomar, or the Black Scourge," another of a noted series which is being produced from time to time, and which is making a sensation in the moving picture world. "The Wandering Jew" showed the principal scenes of that wonderful and most intricate plot, where the great conspiracy was carried out to obtain possession of the fortune amounting to 110 millions, which had many heirs. It was a most wonderful exposition of this great classic Some of the strong dramas of the week were "The Deserter," "The Soldier," "The Paymaster," and "Bunny's Birthday Surprise." The Pathe Weekly Friday has its usual offering of good things. Among these are scenes from New York, where the new English Ambassador arrives; from France, where the German dririgible military balloon alights and creates consternation in the French camp on the latter's soil; from Athens, Greece, where the military funeral of King George was held, who was assassinated. The bill for Saturday is an unusually strong one.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

A goodly repertoire of comedy, drama and travel was scheduled on the Coyle Theatre program this week. "The Curate's Outing," "Thus Saith the Lord," in two reels, "She Never Knew," "InSlavery Days," in two reels, were some of the leading features of the fore part of the week. "The Stage Driver's Chivalry," was a tale of a western bandit, who shipping as a passenger in a stage coach for the purpose of holding it up when it reached the rendezvous of a pal along the route, has occasion to change his mind. A fellow passenger is a young girl, who in much perturbation shows the bandit a letter, telling her to return home at once if she desires to see her mother alive. Because of this ,after the holdup, the passenger, who becomes the driver, changes his route and drives the girl to her destination, so that she reaches her mother's bedside in time to see her alive. Three two reel Bison films are on the program for the last three days of the week. These are, "Under Fire," Thursday; "Secret Service Sam," Friday; "Love, Life and Liberty," Saturday. Other good week end dramas of the program were "Good for Evil," "Black Jack's Atonement," "When Wit Wins," and "Billy's Honeymoon." An extra two-reel feature will be given on Saturday, making five reels for that date.

THE STAR—CHARLLEROI.

With a good all-around program the Star Theatre this week presented its regular melange of drama, comedy and travel to its big clientele of patrons. "The Children's Conspiracy," "The Man From the City," "Boobs and Bricks," "The Reward of Courage," "An American in the Making," and "Cupid in the Dental Parlor," were among the first of the week offerings that attracted unusual attention. A two-reel Broncho, "Retrogression," was what its name implies, a return to primeval conditions after the gloss of civilization had been tried and found wanting. Other interesting features were "Hoodoo Pearls," "When Jim Returned," together with a split reel, "A Fishy Affair," and "Bangville Police." Friday's bill is strong, headed by the "Mutual Weekly," and a two reel Kay Bee, "Will O' the Wisp." For Saturday the Star has booked "Her Innocent Marriage," "My Lady's Boot," and "The Eternal Sacrifice."

THE HIPPODROME—PITTSBURG.

Arrangements are going forward rapidly for the opening of the Pittsburg Hipodrome whose season on Forbes Field is to begin on Monday night, June 30. This great out of doors pleasure resort is by long odds the most important institution of its kind in America and its popularity with greater Pittsburgers has made the prospective date of its opening a source of thousands of inquiries. The plans [illegible] business that is an augury of entertainment unsurpassed and at a scale of prices that will invite the whole public. The million dollar stadium, with its capacity of more than 30,000 chairs and the enormous community, which Pittsburg has to draw from makes it possible to present a show infinitely more varied and quite as large as that of the greatest circuses at a scale approximating 10, 15, 25 and 35 cents with private box seats at 50 cents. It is proposed to give a performance every evening, rain or fair, whether the Pittsburg Base Ball Club is at home or away, and on favorite occasions, when the club is absent, to have Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Three huge elevated stages will be utilized for the rings and the track and field will afford ample space for important athletic events, which by the way, are to be distictive features of this year's shows.

Lighting facilities of the most modern and unique sort will be installed so that however obscure the orb of night, Forbes Field will always be as brilliant as bright daylight. It is the intention of Managers Harry Davis and John P. Harris to make these performances compass the whole field of amusements suited to representation in the open air, and hence, will give the general public an incentive for repeating their visits to the Hippodrome as often as opportunity presents. Arrangements will be made to place tickets on sale in advance at convenient places in Pittsburg. Full details as to the program for the opening week will be forthcoming shortly.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

Pittsburgers are to witness an event next week which is perhaps with out a parriallel in the history of the local stage; namely a production by the Hary Davis Stock company in the Grand Opera House of the ancient morality play 'Everyman." This is the impressive drama of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries which the Shakespeare Stage Society of London under the direction of Ben Greet, vived in the world's capital five or years. On the occasion of its representation in this City by Ben Greet players, "Everyman" tracted enormous audiences to Ca gie Music Hall at a scale of prices proximating grand opera fees.

The play symbolizes the unive mortality, that Everyman that must die and points the moral right living so that when the comes to make the journey to tomb Everyman may be prepa Despite the fact that it is a seri "Everymen" is a powerful dram drama which is the best sort of tertainment and which, on accoun its thoroughly unique character these days of much theatric t cannot fail to provide real enter ment even for the habitual playg who goes to the theatre wholly recreation. Miss Truax, has alr rehearsed the play under the d tion of Mr. Ben Greet and her con tion of the role, which will be ma by her own individuality, promise be one of the artistic triumphs of splendid career. The other charac will, of course ,be played by Charles Gunn, Mr. Dennis Harris, Hal De Forest, Mr.Morris Foster, J. Francis R.Dillon, Mr.Jerome S Mr. Allen Kelley, Miss Gertrude land, Miss Faith Avery, Miss J Pringle and the various other ta ed actors of the Davis organiza It is expected that society will m the production of "Everyman" an casion for a pilgrimage to the the and also that numerous church ties, drawn thither by the sacred of the theme, will be found an Mr. Davis' audiences.

What Bill Can Do

It will surprise you what a ten dollar bill can do for your boy if placed to his credit in this bank.

It will be an incentive to saving and will create an ambition for a future business career. He will take pride in adding to a Savings Account until he is able to establish himself in business. Do it now.

BANK OF CHARLEROI

Charleroi, Pa.

Business Will Remain The Same.

Since the death of Wilmot D. Hancock, many people have inquired as to whether or not the undertaking business would still be conducted by Mrs. Hancock. She desires to state that she will remain in Roscoe and with the assistance of her brother, Chas. Melenyzer, who recently secured his state licence as an undertaker, continue the business as heretofore. During the illness of Mr. Hancock a large portion of the work connected with the business was done by Mrs. Hancock, and she is therefore familiar with its undertaking. 278-t6-M-2
